

SAND SLURRY TRANSPORT

Japan

Sand Slurry Transported by Pipeline

DESCRIPTION

As one of the EPDC's research and development programs, sediment in the Sakuma Reservoir is being removed in the form of slurry by constructing a pilot dredging plant, contributing to some extent to the enlargement of the reservoir capacity. This program is to demonstrate the viability of the future application of sand slurry transport for such purposes as riverbed dredging for flood control and estuary port dredging.